NO PAPER TOMORROW.

According to the long established custom in Wilmington newspaperdom there will be no issue of The Morning Star tomorrow, the suspension being for the purpose of allowing all employes an opportunity of celebrating as they may see proper the great National Thanksgiving Day. Subscribers may expect no paper tomorrow unless some extraordinary news feature should develop requiring an extra, which is promised subscribers should the value of any item, local or otherwise, demand it.

First ... ...or ...nder Special New ...nover County's New Usury Law.

BEFORE JUSTICE FURLONG

Somersill Banking Company's Manager Haled to Court Charged With Exceeding! Lawful Rate of Interest—The Hearing.

The first indictment under the new usury law as passed for New Hanover county at the last session of the Legislature, at the suggestion of the then city attorney, William J. Bellamy, Esq. was made yesterday in the court of Justice Furlong, who indicates his purpose upon every affidavit furnished him to prosecute cases to the fullest extent of the law where there is evidence that unlawful rates of interest are charged and the unfortunate condition of persons is taken advantage of.

The case in point is not regarded as a flagrant violation of the law, but Justice Furlong says that people have no idea of the extortion that is practiced upon the poor and ignorant of the city by the money-lending sharks. The problem bobs up periodically in every city, but the opinion is expressed that the law as drafted by Mr. Bellamy and passed by the last Legislature will correct the evil in this city and county at least and it is proposed to apply it to each and every case. It provides that where more than the legal rate of interest is charged and the same is proved before a competent court of jurisdiction, the offender shall be fined $50 or sentenced to the roads for 30 days. The law is operative in only one other county, Guilford, the representative from that county in the Legislature having applied to have Greensboro included in the provisions of the act.

The warrant yesterday was by Sampson Cooper, colored, who alleges that he borrowed $2.40 from the firm of the Somersill Banking Co., with offices over the Postal Telegraph, on Front street and that for the loan for 30 days, he was required to give his note and a mortgage for $4.00 on all his household and kitchen furniture. The manager of the firm who has since left the company, is named in the warrant as the defendant.

The charge is denied by the manager for the Somersill Banking Co., and the hearing is set for to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Other warrants it is said, will follow the one just issued.

Trip to Fort Caswell.

The Chamber of Commerce party, numbering about fifty ladies and gentlemen, went down to Fort Caswell yesterday, leaving the city at 10:30 o'clock on the steamer Wilmington which was kindly tendered by Capt. John W. Harper for the purpose. The visitors were most cordially received and elegantly entertained by Maj. Ridgeway and staff at the post. The affair is reported to have been a thoroughly delightful one in every respect

Fire Yesterday Afternoon.

An alarm from box 51 at 4:44 o'clock yesterday afternoon called the Department to a one-story frame dwelling in Stevenson's alley owned by Mr. J. C. Stevenson and occupied by James Blackman, colored. Sparks from a chimney caused a trifling damage to the building and contents.

HIGH SCHOOL HONORS

First Two Months Record Breaker Both in Attendance and High Scholarship—Leaders of the Classes and of the School.

The Honor Roll of the Wilmington High School was announced yesterday, the students at that higher institution of the city's public school system having made a remarkably fine showing. During the two months that have just closed 226 pupils have been enrolled, the greatest number ever matriculated in the school. Out of an aggregate attendance of 4,400 days during the past month only eight pupils were tardy. In other words for every one pupil that was tardy 550 were in their places on time. This is a remarkable showing and bespeaks the great interest that the people of Wilmington take in the education of the children. Punctuality and promptness, in the opinion of the principal, count for much in a boy or girl's training.

For the past two months Miss Etta Sallings, a member of the Freshman Class, led the school with an average of 99.66. She also, of course, had the honor of leading her class. Miss Fannie Mitchell led the Freshman Class No. 2; Nicholas Post led the sophomores; Miss Alice Noble the Juniors. The roll by classes is as follows:

ALDERMAN JOHNSON VERY ILL.

His Condition Such as to Give Alarm to Family and Friends.

The condition of Alderman E. F. Johnson is such as to give great alarm to his family and friends. He has suffered a peculiar attack of paralysis which seems to effect his entire physical constitution. He is rational only at times and is able to help himself but little. Last night it was stated that there was no improvement in his condition though he is being given the very best medical attention and nursing to which he responds very slowly.

On account of the serious illness of Mr. Johnson, it is announced that there will be no Thanksgiving service in Market Street M. E. church. Mr. Johnson is a leading member of the church and his residence is next door to the house of worship, hence the decision of Rev. Mr. Rexford, the pastor, to abandon the service

Warning to Auto Drivers.

Frequent complaints have been made to the Mayor of automobile speeding in the city, especially on Market street. The Mayor yesterday issued a warning to all owners and drivers of machines that the police have been instructed to exercise special diligence to apprehend all violators of the speed ordinance of the city and to bring them into court. He says that the nuisance complained of shall be abated and that the first cases brought to his attention will be made examples to others by the imposition of the full penalty of the law. The Mayor is very earnest in this matter and drivers had best beware.

OUR DAY OF THANKS

Great National and Church Festival Will Be Observed In Wilmington

SERVICES IN CHURCHES

Day of Universal Praise and Gratitude For Blessings of a Year—Congregations Will Hear Sermons and Song Appropriate—To Beach.

Crisp, cool, bracing weather is promised for Thanksgiving. It will be the ideal weather to all appearances this morning and the indications are that in Wilmington the great National Thanksgiving will be appropriately and more generally celebrated than ever before. All business will be suspended, services in keeping with the day will be held in nearly all the churches and everywhere will be evidences that a holiday of no small proportions is on. Nearly all of the morning trains to-day will carry large parties of hunters and anglers to favorite grounds in the vicinity of Wilmington while the general family gatherings on Thanksgiving will add to the passenger traffic on the transportation lines. Many devotes of the game left last night to se Carolina's old-time adversary defeated by the Carlisle Indians in Norfolk while others went to Richmond with the hope of seeing the North Carolina A. & M. wrest gridiron honors from V. P. I. In Wilmington football will share in the day's celebration with a game at Hilton Park by the Y. M. C. A. and W. L. I. teams. It is promising to be an interesting contest and the public is invited.

The day will be notable on the grounds of the Cape Fear Country Club where the annual Thanksgiving men's handicap tournament will be played, while there will be a contest for the ladies of equal importance. A large number of entries have been made for both events. An oyster roast will be served to members of the club and their guests at 1 o'clock, many remaining on the grounds all day.

The Consolidated Company offers a most inviting schedule to all who may desire to spend the day or a part of it on the Sound or at the Beach. From 1 to 5 P. M. cars on the suburban line will be run on a half hour schedule while for the remainder of the day the regular schedule will be operated. There will be no freight car during the day.

The following announcements as to church services in addition to those published yesterday have been received:

At The Churches.

On account of this gathering which the ladies will attend, there will be no meeting of the Ladies Aid Society in the afternoon and no services in the morning.

Grace Church Thanksgiving—The fruits and flowers of the season fill the chancel of Grace Church today to suggest and inspire gratitude in the hearts of the worshippers who are to assemble there at 11 A. M., for the annual Thanksgiving service. The reading of the President proclamation, special music by the choir, an appropriate sermon by the pastor and a collection for the orphans will make up the order of service. Members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend and contribute to the help of the helpless ones.

Thanksgiving Service at St. James'—At 10:30 A. M. Thanksgiving services will be held in St. James Church.

RETAIL DEPARTMENT

In response to the repeated demands of many who have been unable to secure the fine line of candies and confectioneries carried by the firm from their regular dealers, the Carl B. Rehder Candy Company has decided, after mature deliberation, to add a retail department to their large and growing wholesale business at No. 126 Market street. The retail department was opened yesterday for the first time and already it has met with popular favor, especially during these days of holiday shopping when buyers are looking for fresh standard goods in the most attractive packages.

The retail department occupies one whole side of the Market street store and while no costly fixtures and furnishings have been installed the place is clean, bright and inviting; what is more, the offerings in every line are of the best and most attractive. Mr. Carl B. Rehder, head of the firm, will give this department his personal attention and proposes to make it popular and advantageous. In no wise however, will the wholesale business be neglected, the city as well as the out-of-town trade being looked after carefully. As in the wholesale department of the store the specialty at the retail counters will be Headley's fine candies, chocolates and bonbons. The firm also handles the well known Huyler's specialties as well as other standard manufactures of confections.

Miss Otys Brewer and Mr. George Nurnberger have been engaged to look after the retail branch of the business and have drawn liberally from the big wholesale stock for the attractive holiday offerings that they are now making. The retail department of the well known firm promises to do exceedingly well from the start.

COWAN-BLAND.

Wedded Last Night at Home of Bride's Parents on Brunswick Street.

A marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Eva May Cowan, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Cowan, and Mr. Henry J. Bland, a popular young man of this city. The ceremony was performed last night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, No. 215 Brunswick street, which had been attractively decorated for the occasion. The Rev. J. A. McKaughan, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church, officiated, and there were present a large number of friends to witness the nuptials. The bride was given away by her father, the pretty ring service having been used.

Mr. W. E. Bland, a brother of the groom, was best man, but there were no other attendants. The ceremony is described as having been very pretty indeed. Following the service an elegant reception was given at which Mr. and Mrs. Bland received the happiest congratulations of very many friends. They will leave this morning for Richmond, Va., on a bridal tour, but will return to this city and make their home.

THE TEMPERANCE LECTURES

The great crowds attending the temperance revival at the First Baptist Church attest the deep interest taken by many people in Wilmington in the saloon question. The Rev. A. D. Wilcox is conducting the meetings.

Tonight at 8 o'clock Mr. Wilcox will deliver a lecture on "The Sign of the Cross," Wilson Barrett's powerful religious drama on Christian martyrdom. To illustrate the drama the lecturer will display 31 magnificent paintings by means of his huge stereopticon. Following the presentation of the drama a lecture entitled, "Three Pictures From Life" will be given especially for the young.

Friday night Mr. Wilcox will close his series of lectures with a tragedy, "Who Killed Joe's Baby," written for him by the Rev. Charles R. Sheldon. This tragedy is founded on an incident which occurred in the State of Kansas 35 years ago. Saturday morning Mr. Wilcox will leave for Rocky Mount.

The offering will be to the orphans of the Thompson Orphanage. The Sanctuary Guild will meet at 10 o'clock promptly at the church. The baskets for the needy will be distributed by the members of the Brotherhood, who are requested to remain after service. A cordial welcome is extend to strangers and visitors.

DEPOTS ARE ORDERED

Corporation Commission Requires Two of Seaboard One Atlantic Coast Line.

STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Will Meet in Raleigh To-day to Canvass the Vote in November Election—Granting of Law Licenses By Supreme Court.

(By So. Bell Long Distance Phone)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 28.—The Corporaiton Commission issued an order to-day requiring the Seaboard Air Line within 90 days to provide a building adequate for the protection of freight and passengers at Phoenix, near Wilmington. An order is also made requiring the Seaboard within the same time to provide waiting rooms separate for the races and better service for freight and passengers at Councils, also near Wilmington. The Commission also ordered the Atlantic Coast Line to build within 90 days an adequate depot for freight and passengers to take the place of one burned at Jacksonville, Onslow county, some time ago.

The Board of Elections could not meet to-day on account of the absence of a member, who will not reach the city until to-morrow. The Board will meet at 10:30 A. M. and appoint a Board of Canvassers to canvass the State vote in the recent election, which will require two or three days. The Board will meet at noon to-morrow and will probably consist of Governor Glenn, chairman; Wilson G. Lamb, Williamston; J. R. Lewellyn, of Dobson; R. T. Claywell, of Morganton and Clarence Call, of Wilkes.

The Supreme Court has at last made a ruling in the matter of the sensational objections made by certain members of the legal profession in their respective towns to the granting by the court of license to practice law to B. C. Travis, of Winston-Salem and Hiram Baggett, of Clinton, Sampson county. These men filed certificates of good character signed by most reputable lawyers in their respective communities and stood the law examination before the Supreme Court last August. Then other lawyers filed objections to the granting of licenses on the ground that their characters were not good; practices very unbecoming members of the profession were charged and the cases argued in open court.

The court is divided in the matter of the right of the Supreme Court to go behind the certificates of good character filed in due form by the applicants. The ruling opinion holding that the licenses must be granted despite the charges made is by Associate Justice Hoke and is concurred in by Chief Justice Clark and Justice Connor. Justices Brown and Walker dissent on the ground that the statute relative to certificates of character is unconstitutional in that the Legislature has no right to interfere with judicial proceedings of the court in licensing applicants for law practice.

The Hawes-Sellars Mercantile Co., of Atkinson, Pender county, is chartered with $4,000 capital by E. A. Hawes and others.

THE PLAYHOUSE TODAY.

Offering Matinee and Night By the Four Pickerts.

Two performances will be offered by the Academy today, making a merry Thanksgiving for the local playhouse, and the attraction will be the Pickert company, which has been successfully holding the boards all week. At the matinee "Cinderilla" will delight the ladies and children and tonight "Charley's Aunt" will amuse the grown-ups. A clever lot of specialties is produced between acts of both performances. The matinee prices will be 10 and 20 cents and the doors for this performance will open at 1:30 o'clock, though the curtain will not rise until the usual hour. Tickets for either performance can be purchased this morning.

Last night the company was seen in "The Inventor" and well pleased a large audience.

Captain B. R. Russell Very Ill.

Capt. B. R. Russell, the veteran fireman of the Wilmington Department, having been in the service for thirty-one years, is again very ill at his home in this city. Capt. Russell's condition is such as to give much concern to family and friends.

THE INLAND WATERWAY.

The meeting in Wilmington on Tuesday in the interest of the proposed inland waterway, or the inside route on the Atlantic coast, was altogether a most successful one. The attendance from various points by distinguished and leading men demonstrated the marked interest in this great enterprise and the spirit and enthusiasm of those interested in the scheme is a good augury for the final success of the movement. If the work in its behalf is kept up with the determination and spirit as manifested in Wilmington, we have no doubt that the inland waterway will be assured. It is one big thing that Congress has an opportunity of doing for developing coastwise commerce, and all who investigate the subject begin to realize what tremendous possibilities lie in the construction of the inside route, already pronounced by engineers to be feasible and capable of construction at practically a small expense.

If the inland waterway is ever constructed it will pass within eight miles of Wilmington, if the Wrightsville Sound route is chosen, but if the Harrison Creek and Northeast River route is adopted, it would bring the shipping right by the wharves of Wilmington. No city should be so deeply interested in the scheme as Wilmington, and The Star hopes the citizens of this city will never fail to take the liveliest and most earnest interest in the movement and co-operate in everything that can be done to promote it. The movement has a big scope of territory and enormous commercial interests back of it; it should be pushed to a successful termination. Baltimore is deeply concerned in it, and the scheme is thus heartily endorsed by the powerful Baltimore Sun:

"In this work the city of Baltimore has an interest superior to that of any other one community. The object of the association is to induce the government of the United States to construct an inside waterway from the waters of the Chesapeake bay, through the North Carolina sounds to Beaufort Inlet, about 150 miles south of Norfolk, Va. It is designed that the canal shall be twelve feet deep and there will have to be considerable dredging in some of the shoals of existing passages. There is already an inside passage from Norfolk to the sounds by the Dismal Swamp canal. But this canal can pass only small boats and it is not a free passageway. The cost of the proposed improvement is estimated at $3,500,000, which is a trifling sum compared with the vast results which would follow. A waterway for steamers, vessels and barges drawing as much as twelve feet of water would give the cheapest transportation to a great extent of country where it is now lacking. It would open to the Baltimore market the territory along the banks of the Chowan, the Pamlico, the Tar, the Neuse and Roanoke rivers, penetrating far into the interior of North Carolina. It would afford to fruit growers and market gardeners facilities which would cause a great industry to grow up, such as has made the region around Norfolk wealthy and prosperous. It would bring the cities of Edenton, Elizabeth City, Washington, Newbern and Beaufort in close communication with Baltimore, enabling those important distributing places to obtain supplies at the minimum cost. Such a waterway entering the ocean near Beaufort, would enable coasting vessels bound south, for Wilmington, Georgetown, Charleston, Savannah, and Jacksonville, to avoid Cape Hatteras and the most dangerous navigation on the whole Atlantic coast. It would do more to develop a country of great natural advantages than such a sum of money spent in any other way. The natural market for all this section of the South Atlantic is Baltimore. It affords the best market for fruit and vegetables and oysters which abound along the North and South Carolina coasts. The packing houses of this city take all these products that are not needed for immediate consumption. Nowhere else can the people of the Southern tidewater region get their supplies to better advantage than from the factories and wholesale warehouses of this city.

"Much stress is laid upon the advantage of an inland waterway as an agency for defense. It is to be hoped that there would never be any occasion to use this avenue of peaceful commerce for any military purpose. Nevertheless, if the mouth of the Chesapeake should ever be blockaded by a hostile fleet, an open and protected way out of the bay would unquestionably be of advantage. This work would be more in the nature of improving an existing waterway and could justly be classed among the river and harbor improvements."

"Waterways are becoming more and more into favor. They not only afford the cheapest transportation, but the most certain and reliable. When freight is put on a boat at the wharves of a city consigned to the place which the vessel is bound, it will arrive at its destination along with the vessel. There are no sidings upon which it can be shunted, to stand indefinitely. If a bill appears in Congress to construct this inside waterway, it is to be hoped that every member of the Maryland delegation in both Senate and House will take an active personal interest in it and help it along with all his power."

At a cost so comparatively trifling and with results so enormously in evidence, the inland waterway should be seriously considered by Congress and undertaken at the earliest possible time. While we are moving in this connection, it is announced that a direct water route between New York City and Montreal is being promoted by Canadian capitalists; by canal from the head of navigation on the Hudson a county's length or so northeast to Lake George, up through the lake and a short distance by canal across to Lake Champlain, then clear sailing up to Canada. The amount of construction work necessary, compared with that in other waterway projects, is small, and apparently no particularly difficult engineering problems are involved.

The Newburg (N. Y.,) News says about the latter scheme: "The waterway would rank in commercial importance with that connecting Lake Erie and the Hudson River. The day is coming when steamboats will pass up the Hudson for both the Great Lakes and the upper St. Lawrence. The 1,000-ton barge improvement of the Erie is the forerunner of the ship canal"

CURRENT COMMENT.

—An Ohio woman went without food for 15 days in order to convert her husband but failed. When it comes to reforming a man, the fast method is too slow.—Washington Post.

—The Washington Herald says that in the event that the President does not reappoint Hon. Judson Clements on the Inter-State Commerce Commission he will probably tender the place to ex-Governor Aycock, of North Carolina, or to Governor Montague, of Virginia.—Raleigh News and Observer.

—An estimate made by the Government office at Nashville for the use of the 1907 World Almanac puts Tennessee's population at 2,219,000, or an increase of 199,192 in the six years since the Federal census of 1900. At the last census North Carolina passed Virginia in population for the first time in the history of the two States, and it appears to be only a question of whether 1910 or 1920 when Tennessee will be taking her dust also.—Charlotte Observer.

—Various calculations have been made about how many millions of dollars Southern farmers lose every year through the course of many of them in leaving their cotton exposed to the weather while holding it for higher prices. Such careless people also suffer heavy losses on cotton seed. It seems that tobacco growers similarly offend against thrift and themselves. The following is from the Mt. Airy News: "It is astonishing to see the condition of the tobacco that is being sold on this market. It does seem that the farmers would see that they are losing much money by bringing their tobacco here in a damaged condition. We stood on the warehouse floor to-day, Wednesday, and saw the commonest lugs sold for nine cents and the very next pile, which appeared to be a very fine grade of wrappers, sell for five cents. The last pile was badly damaged and not of much value to anyone. Tobacco that is in good condition is bringing in the neighborhood of 10 cents around from what we could judge by a careful examination of the tobacco we saw sold. But there is not less than half of the weed that is badly damaged." If there was ever a time when any farmer was unable to provide proper shelter for his harvestings, that time is now past and we trust that losses to the South through this cause will henceforth diminish.—Charlotte Observer.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Alban's, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Greensboro, Nov. 27.—The fact was made known yesterday that other places besides Greensboro were making preparations for the typical Thanksgiving Day when 30 solid cars of dressed turkeys passed here from the South destined to Northern cities.

—Saturday while hunting Master Callie Suggs, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner B. Suggs, of Wilson, suffered injury to his hand by the accidental discharge of his gun. One finger was shot off and two or three more on the same hand were badly injured.

—Washington, N. C., Nov. 27.—Work on the Washington & Vandemere railroad is being pushed rapidly forward. All the rights of way have been virtually opened from Read Hill to the river front. The work of constructing a railroad bridge over Tar river above this city was begun near the Eureka mill this morning.

—Kinston, Nov. 27.—The committee has agreed to accept the new Caswell monument from the contractors conditionally. The shaft is not plumb, leaning a little to the east, but this is due, it is said, to a settling of the base on the east side, which was probably caused by the earthquake shock in 1886. When the new monument becomes settled and hard the base will be jacked up and filled in under it.

—Wilson, Nov. 27.—Last night two prisoners—Henry Clayton and George Carver, who were allowed the privilege of the jail corridor, escaped by removing the bricks from around the iron grating of a window. Clayton was recently given eight months in jail for picking pockets, and Carver four months for obtaining money under false pretense. The other prisoners were in cells and could not escape.

—Concord, Nov. 27.—Mrs. D. F. Cannon, formerly Miss Mattie Lee, of Goldsboro, was hurt here this afternoon by being thrown from a carriage. She was alone driving to the station to meet her friend, Miss Daisy Smith, of Goldsboro. The horses ran and the driver was thrown from his seat. Mrs. Cannon opened the door and jumped and was thrown violently to the ground. Her injuries, however, are not serious.

—Salisbury, Nov. 27.—As the result of a boiler explosion at the saw mill of J. A. Hill, 10 miles north of Salisbury, Thomas Parks, aged 20 years, an employe of the mill, lies dead to-night and two colored employes at the plant are dangerously injured. Parks was literally boiled alive. The explosion resulted from the safety valve of the boiler being too high. So terrific was the blow that the huge boiler was carried 360 yards across the hills. The mill was totally wrecked.

—Charlotte, Nov. 27.—At Waxhaw, 17 miles from here, yesterday evening Ben Hood, a negro, was shot and killed by either J. W. Lance or T. O. Lambert, collectors for C. H. Robinson & Co., of Charlotte, Lance and Lambert went to Hood's to make a collection. Hood drew his gun and shot Lance in the arm. One or both of the young men returned the fire, killing the negro. The affair has created a good deal of excitement in the community, and at one time it was feared the negroes would do violence to the men who are responsible for the killing of Hood. To-day, however, everything is quiet and an inquest is being held.

—Greensboro, Nov. 27.—A little white boy, who does not desire further publicity by a publication of his name, was out hunting Saturday. He accidentally shot himself in the foot. He was but 12 years old, and fearing that his mother would not let him go hunting again, kept the accident a secret. Yesterday, however, he had to send for a doctor. His great toe, from lack of attention where the shot had struck, had mortified to such an extent that it had to be amputated to save his life. The little fellow must have descended from the old Spartan who would allow the fox to gnaw his insides out rather than make an outcry.

Raeford, Nov. 2.—Sunday afternoon Julian Peele, R. F. D. mail carrier, ended his life by blowing the top of his head off with a gun. It seems that he had seen Bob Smith, a negro who keeps a barber shop, with a gun, and Sunday afternoon when the negro had left his apartments he quietly went in and loaded the gun. A string was attached from the trigger to his foot and lying across the bed he blew his brains out. It is supposed that he intended cutting his throat in case he did not succeed in the first attempt, for in his pocket was found an opened razor. Also a note bearing the words "Gertrude, I love you, and die loving you." No direct cause is known for the deed, as there was nothing unusual in his manner. He had been drinking heavily the day before. The girl referred to is Miss Gertrude Crowley, a young woman who lives six mile from here. Whether or not they had a quarrel is not known. Mr. Peele was about 28 years of age and of a highly respected family.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 27.—Last night shortly after 10 o'clock a negro woman, who was accompanied by a man of the same color, stepped into the restaurant of Capt. Napier and offered to sell a handsome diamond ring for $4. A police officer happened to be in the restaurant at the time, and asked to look at it. He remarked that he believed the ring was stolen property, whereupon the negroes fled, leaving the ring in the officer's possession. This morning, the matter, having been noised about a good deal, a gentleman residing at Rocky Mount, who happened to be in town, identified the ring as the property of his wife, which, with $28 in money, was stolen from his house by a nurse Saturday night. He had just received a letter this morning from his wife telling him of the robbery, when he heard of the incident at the restaurant. The woman who offered the ring answered the description of the nurse. The ring was valued at $150.

For Bronchitis

it heals the bronchial tubes and remedies the cough

For centuries old-fashioned cod liver oil has been prescribed by physicians the world over for coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs and consumption, but many would not take it on account of the useless fatty, fishy oil which enveloped the medicinal curatives and it often failed to help those who could take it because it upset the stomach.

Anyone can take the delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which contains all the medicinal curatives and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod's livers, but no oil or grease and wherever old fashioned cod liver oil or emulsion would do good, Vinol will do far more good for all bronchial and lung troubles.

We ask every person in Wilmington suffering from chronic colds, coughs, bronchitis or weak lungs to try Vinol on our guarantee. R. R. Bellamy, druggist.

Note—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Wilmington, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Persuade your wives to stay away from the second floor of the Southern Electric Company's building if you do not wish them to spend money on fixtures.

LADIES.

Come and stay as long as you like. We have devoted our entire second floor to the exhibition of fixtures. Whether you contemplate purchasing now or not, we invite you to call and examine the finest and most complete line of gas, electric, and combination fixtures in the state.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

We will hold them as long as you like but we certainly cannot hold them unless you choose now.

We think it is all very interesting but the part that interests you most is the price. The low prices are all out of proportion to the style of the fixtures. It will be very little trouble for us to prove this statement to you if you will give us the opportunity.

We will wire your residence for electric lights as reasonably as we will sell you fixtures.

THANKSGIVING AT HEMENWAY

Appropriate Exercises at the School By Pupils Yesterday.

The Thanksgiving idea was very prettily carried out yesterday in a delightful little entertainment at Hemenway School to which a number of friends and patrons of the school were invited. The programme was made up of songs, recitations and the like and the pupils of the school acquitted themselves most creditably. The programme was as follows:

Song—"Harvest Home," by the school.
Reading of Thanksgiving Proclamation by the Superintendent.
Recitation—"The First Thanksgiving," by Ruth Britt.
"Pilgrim Maids," by seven little girls
Recitation by Gretchen Krahnke.
"Gobble Song" by children of the First Grade.
Recitation by Annie Wallace.
Song by the school.
Recitation by William Whitaker.
Nut Party by five children.
Recitation— "An Hundred Years Ago," Valina Gregg.
"Pop Corn Song" by children of the First and Third Grades.

As a finale all the visitors were requested to join in the singing of the National hymn "America."

In the perfect rendition of the programme, if special mention may be made, the seven little Pilgrim Maids, dressed in characteristic costume with kerchiefs and caps, should receive it. They were Gladys Page, Virginia Farmer, Lucile Page, Edna Vaugh, Elizabeth Powell, Lucile Sternberger, and Gladys Twining. Others who were exceptional in the rendition of their parts were Evelyn Martin, Harry Tucker, Annie Meade Lynch, Duvall Davis, John Costin and Alberta Creasy, who composed the "nut party." "Old Hickory" in military array of hickory nuts, was faithfully portrayed by Master Davis. The pop corn song was very prettily rendered by children dressed in yellow.

SUITS AGAINST COAST LINE.

Fourteen Instituted in Justice Court Yesterday for Penalties.

Fourteen suits for the recovery of claims aggregating $1,056, penalties for the alleged failure to deliver freight within a reasonable time as provided by an act of the Legislature at its last session, were instituted in Justice Furlong's court yesterday against the Atlantic Coast Line, the complainants being C. B. West, the contractor, and Messrs. Julius and Sol. Strenberger, of this city. The summons were filed by L. V. Grady, Esq., plaintiffs' attorney. Penalties in the amount named are asked by the alleged failure of the company to deliver promptly as required by law certain materials that were needed for the building of the store of Messrs. Strenberger Bros., on North Front street. Both the contractor and the owners claim to have suffered financial loss in the delay of the completion of the building, hence the suit for the penalties. The case will be heard before Justice Furlong on December 7th.

MR. W. F. SCHWING DEAD.

Died Suddenly in Louisville, Ky., Yesterday—The Funeral.

Mr. Wiliam F. Schwing, father of Mrs. Edmund L. Prince and Mrs. Moses F. Kreeger, of this city, died yesterday rather suddenly at his home in Louisville, Ky. Mr. Schwing was about 86 years of age and belonged to a prominent Kentucky family. Mr. and Mrs. Prince left last night for Louisville to attend the funeral. Mrs. Kreeger was unable to accompany them on account of sickness. The news of the death was received by wire by members of the family here yesterday. Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Kreeger have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their sorrow.

Moses-Forshee Wedding.

Friends in this city yesterday received very handsomely engraved invitations bearing the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Moses will give in marriage their daughter, Adele, to Mr. Eugene Forshee on the afternoon of Wednesday, the twelfth of December, one thousand nine hundred and six, at five o'clock, at one hundred and seventeen Church street, Sumter, South Carolina. The pleasure of your company is requested." Mr. Forshee is one of Wilmington's most popular young men and is soliciting freight agent of the Seaboard Air Line. The bride-elect is one of the most charming young women of the Palmetto State and has been one of the most attractive visitors to Wrightsville Beach for several seasons.

INTO HANDSOME NEW STORE.

The Corbett Company Now Located at Nutt and Hanover Streets.

The Corbett Company, one of Wilmington's largest and most important wholesale grocery and provision establishments, has just removed into its handsome new store at corner of Nutt and Hanover streets where its shipping facilities are unsurpassed and its quarters among the largest of any firm of its kind in the State. The building is of brick, slate roof, and is 200 feet long by 60 feet wide. Spur tracks from both the Seaboard Air Line and the Coast Line go on the premises and the house is perhaps more advantageously located for shipping and receiving than any firm in the two Carolinas.

The warehouse facilities are splendid and of large capacity. The offices of the firm are in the southern end of the building and are handsomely fitted up. The building is owned by Mr. M. J. Corbett personally but the Corbett Company has a lease upon it for a number of years.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS SOCIAL.

Delightful Affair Last Night by Popular Organization.

The first annual social of the Knights of Columbus last night in their hall on Third street, was a delightful affair in every respect and was largely attended. The decorations were in K. of C. colors, red, white and blue, and were very pretty and effective. Dancing began at 9 o'clock and about 60 couples "tript the light fantastic" until 1:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. R. C. Banks served most admirably as floor manager and excellent music was furnished by Kneissel's orchestra.

Light refreshments were served, the lady friends of the Knights of Columbus assisting with this feature and also with the decorations. The committee from the Knights was composed of Mr. R. C. Banks, chairman; Messrs. Timothy Donlan, W. J. Bergen, J. N. Sweeney, W B. Munroe, James J. Allen and Daniel Quinlivan.

Important Announcement.

To have the largest stock of goods in any line, from which customers may select and from which to supply customers is a fortunate condition for any firm. The distinction of having the "largest stock" is often claimed by several rival stores in the same line.

Realizing the importance of having the largest stock of Furniture and house furnishings in Wilmington, it has been claimed by different ones. On June the first, according to the sworn tax returns, we have more than twice as many goods as any furniture store in the city, else those with the largest stock falsified tax returns under oath, depriving every branch of government from the school child to the old soldier.

The records of the transportation companies show that since June 1st we have received twice as many goods as any furniture store in the city.

To be able to save purchasers money is so important a matter that almost every one claims that.

With our facilities for buying in large quantities, saving freight, paying cash, saving discounts, economical management, certainly puts us to the place. Our goods cost us from 20 per cent to 35 per cent less than if we bought differently. We sell goods on an average of 25 per cent less than we could if we bought in the usual way.

Special Sale.

Our buyer has just returned from the Market where he bought large quantities of Holiday Goods. We have decided to have special sales days, on which we will sell these goods very cheap. Watch this space for Special announcements.

300 KILLED OR WOUNDED.

Result of Terrible Catastrophe in German Explosive Factory.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Dortmund, Germany, Nov., 29.—A roburit factory situated close to the town of Annen, seven miles southwest of here, blew up yesterday evening and was wiped from the face of the earth. It is estimated that 300 persons were killed or wounded but the exact number has not been ascertained. Up to half past one o'clock this morning eight dead bodies had been recovered and 80 of the severely wounded persons had been conveyed to the hospitals. The work of rescue now going on is attended with the greatest danger from the possibility of a renewal of the explosion. The accident occurred at about half past eight o'clock. There were two tremendous detonations heard throughout the entire surrounding industrial region which is thickly settled. The windows in the adjacent towns of Annen were destroyed by the concussion and many houses were unroofed. No house escaped injury. The inhabitants of the immediate neighborhood fled, anticipating another explosion in the vaults of the factory. The town of Annen is nothing more than a heap of ruins. Houses were shattered right and left and none escaped injury. "Roburit" is an explosive of high power, composed of saltpetre, ammonia, sulphur and other ingredients. It is not easily exploded by a blow and it can be burned with safety in the open air. Its power is second to that of dynamite.

CHARLOTTE MEN INDICTED.

Charged With Unlawfully Importing English Factory Girls.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Upon request of Secretary Metcalf, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, the Attorney General has caused the institution of proceeding against a number of North Carolina cotton mill owners for alleged violation of the alien contract labor law.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 28.—Col. H. C. Cowles, of Statesville, clerk of United States District Court has issued summonses for Messrs. Thomas F. Costello, Edward A. Smith, S. B. Sargent and E. C. Dwello to appear in the Federal Court December 10 to answer to the charge of having violated the contact labor laws in the importation of a number of English mill operatives. This action was taken at the instance of United States District Attorney A. E. Holton, of Winston-Salem.

Within the past few months there have come into Piedmont, Carolina, between 80 and 90 mill operatives from the Lancashire district of England. Inspector A. F. McLaughlin has placed 32 of them under arrest. Their evidence has been taken down and they are being detained until the Government decides how to act.

The cotton mill men have employed counsel and there is the promise of a battle royal in the courts. The mill men assert that they have not violated the laws.

Why They Got No Mail.

An official of the postoffice department at Washington tells of a new postoffice that was established in a certain small town. A native of the place, the proprietor of a grocery, was installed as postmaster. It was not very long before complaints were filed with the department that no mail was being forwarded from the new office, so an inspector was detailed to investigate the matter. When he called upon the postmaster and asked why no mail had been sent out, the former pointed to a large mail bag hanging up in a corner and said:

"The mail's in that bag. I ain't sent it out yet because the bag ain't nowheres nigh full."

Beit's Generosity.

One of the many persons whom Alfred Beit, the diamond multimillionaire, had befriended repaid him with ingratitude and abuse. Later the ingrate fell on evil times. Though down in the gutter, he still had a little shame left and would not ask Mr. Beit for help. The South African diamond magnate sent for one of the unlucky one's friends and said: "Go and see So-and-so. Ask if he wants any help and give it to him, but don't let him think it is from me. I have had a difference with him, and perhaps it would annoy him."

Politics.

"Mornin', congressman. I"—

"Well, it's old Jim Smith. Jim, how are you? Have a cigar, Jim."

"Thought I'd come around to tell you that I'd moved out of your district, but"—

"Indeed, Mr. Smith."

"You see, I wanted to find out if"—

"Yes, Smith."

"If you could use your influence to"—

"Sorry, my man, but I can't stop. Good morning."—Puck.

She Suspected It.

"Why, Mrs. Parvenu, this is unmistakably an old master," said the enthusiastic caller.

"That's just what I told John. I'll send it back to have it repainted and a new frame put on."

ROBBING A BANK SAFE

He Was Hired to Do the Job, and He Did It Well, but the Reward Was Not What Had Been Promised by His Unscrupulous Employer.

"One day in the fall of 1874," said an old retired detective, "one of the most finished and successful bank burglars that ever used a drill in this country was walking across Sixth avenue, New York, enjoying his parole and the mellow sunshine. There were a whole lot of indictments hanging over him, of course, but they didn't worry him any, for he happened to be on pretty fair terms with some of the men attached to the municipal administration at that time. As he swung along he was accosted by a prosperous looking man whom he did not know, although the prosperous looking citizen addressed the burglar by his right name. The crook, finding after some stalling that the man who knew his name wasn't a detective, took him into a cafe and asked him some things.

"'In the first place, how did you know me?' he inquired of the stranger.

"Well, it appeared that the burglar had been pointed out to the stranger by a detective who was so shady that he afterward did time for surreptitiously extending aid and comfort to the enemy, one of the old time bands of New York crooks.

"'All right,' said the cracksman then. 'Now, I don't suppose you are seeking my acquaintanceship for the sake of being introduced into society or for the enjoyment of my winning ways. What's your lay?'

"Then the stranger up and told the burglar what his graft was.

"'I'm the cashier of a bank a bit up the state,' said he to the burglar. 'The directors don't know anything about it, but I'm short in my accounts. There's only one way out of it. The bank will have to be robbed by professional cracksmen. That will let me out, and in addition I'll expect to get my rakeoff from the robbery. I want you to rob the bank. You'll find $35,000 in cash in it on the night you arrange the job. I'll attend to that. Of course I want my bit out of that, $10,000 at least. I've always heard that you're square in these divisions of plunder, and therefore I'll trust you to hand me my share after you've done the job for putting you on to it.'

"'This sounds good enough to eat,' replied the cracksman. 'Fact is, it's so sweet that it's almost cloying. Now, I've heard your proposition. You give me a couple of days to investigate you, and then we'll talk business.'

"They arranged another meeting at the same place a couple of days later, and in the meantime the cracksman, whose facilities were the best, looked into the job. He found that his man really was the cashier of an up state bank in a town not more than an hour's run from New York. So when the cashier called at the appointed time the burglar was ready to talk business.

"'You'll have a hard night's work,' said the cashier, 'for in order to avert suspicion I'll have to leave the vaults and safes locked tighter'n a drum, as usual. You'll need several assistants.'

"'That's my end of it,' replied the cracksman. 'You just let me handle those little details. Every man to his trade. They don't make 'em so strong that I can't get into 'em.'

"Then all of the details were arranged, and the robbery was fixed for a certain night in the following week. The cashier was especially solicitous that he should get his share of the proceeds of the crib cracking. The cracksman assured him that if there was $35,000 in the job $25,000 would be enough for himself and his associates and the cashier would get the rest. On the night fixed the cracksman and three of his best men went up to the town and pulled off the job. It was a matter of four hours before the gang after overpowering and gagging the watchman got into the main safe. They found it empty. Then they tackled the smaller safes. These, too, were empty. The top notch cracksman was pretty mad, naturally.

"He had been played for a good thing, and he knew it. The cashier had simply looted the bank himself, and the robbery which he had arranged was to cover up his own trail. There have been Napoleons of finance without number developed from among bank cashiers, but I never heard of a neater job than that.

"Of course the cracksman and his pals had nothing for it but to pack their kits and drill back to New York. They weren't, of course, in a position to say anything about how they'd been done. The top notch cracksman had to read in the afternoon papers the lurid accounts of how the bank had been robbed of cash and securities 'approximating $100,000 in amount' and grind his teeth and cuss. The bank's failure was announced a few days later.

"The cashier? Oh, within a dozen years he died a beggar on the streets of New York."

OBESITY A DISEASE.

It Is Not, as a Rule, the Result of Laziness or Gluttony.

It is a mistake and an injustice to many abstemious folk to assume that all fat persons are gluttons or large eaters. Very many excessively corpulent people, especially women, are small eaters, while some of the most doughty trenchermen are gaunt and thin.

It is not the quantity so much as the quality of the food one eats which determines the putting on of flesh. Yet it is not always the kind of food that makes the obese, for some stout people eat very sparingly of sugars and starches, while there are large consumers of sweets who never put on flesh. In such cases it is a question of constitution, often of heredity and not at all, or very little, one of diet.

Another prevalent error in regard to fat people is that they are inert or lazy and never exercise. Of course exercise does increase the processes of nutrition and so leads to the burning up of superfluous fat, but at the same time it causes an increase in the appetite and thus tempts to the consumption of a greater quantity of food. So one thing balances the other, and want of exercise alone is not a very potent cause of obesity. Many very fat persons are, it is true, sluggish, but they have become so since putting on their flesh, for it makes a great difference whether one carries 150 pounds about when one walks or whether it is necessary to propel half as much again or even double the weight. It is a tremendous handicap, and there is small wonder that the lightweights do the most exercising.

Obesity, indeed, is usually a disease and not merely the result of laziness or gluttony. Its cause lies deep down in the animal economy, in among those mysterious chemical changes by which the food we take into the mouth is converted into blood and bones and muscles, skin, hair and brain cells. It can often be warded off by a proper diet and mode of living, especially if taken in hand from the very first and not allowed to get the upper hand, but the tendency to stoutness will generally persist through life and can only be modified, but never removed.

Any treatment for the radical removal of flesh should be carried out under the advice of a physician, as violent measures directed to this end may be productive of terrible harm to the constitution.—Youth's Companion.

"Here! What does this mean?" shouted Whooply as he found his youngest riding a broomstick over the top of the piano.

"This is all right. Mamma said if I'd stay in I could play on the piano."

HANNAH MORE.

The Unfortunate Love Story of a Famous English Writer.

Hannah More was born on Feb. 2, 1745, at Stapleton, in Gloucestershire, her father being the master of a school in the neighborhood. In 1757 her eldest sister, Mary, who was then twenty-one, with her sisters Elizabeth and Sarah, opened a ladies' school in Trinity street, Bristol, taking Hannah and her younger sister, Patty, who were then respectively twelve and ten years of age, as pupils. The school was a great success, and Hannah became a highly cultivated girl. Somewhere about the year 1767 she made the acquaintance of a Mr. Turner of Belmont. He was a wealthy bachelor, considerably older than herself and the owner of a fine estate near Flax Bourton, in Somersetshire. She is described as being at this time an exceedingly pretty girl, with delicate features and beautiful eyes. These characteristics she retained to the end of her life, as the portrait of her by Pickersgill in the national portrait gallery clearly shows. She became a constant visitor at Belmont and in due course of time received from Mr. Turner a proposal of marriage, which she accepted. She withdrew from her connection with the school and made all peparations for her wedding.

This, however, never took place. Three times was the day fixed and as often for some unintelligible reason postponed by Mr. Turner. His affection for her seems to have been sincere, but he was a man of a curious and rather gloomy disposition, and his strange conduct may possibly be referred to some mental perversity. At last her friends interfered and insisted on the engagement being broken off. Mr. Turner was very anxious to make a settlement upon her, and, though for some time she declined to entertain the proposal, she was finally persuaded by Sir James Stonehouse to accept an annuity of £200 a year. This unfortunate affair did not interfere with the friendship and respect which Mr. Turner continued to feel for her, and at his death he left her a legacy of £1,00. But it probably left its mark on her, and, though she subsequently receive two offers of marriage, she declined them both.—New York Tribune.

SOME FIRST OCCASIONS.

The first books were bound by Attalus, king of Pergamus, in 198 B. C.

The first glass window in England was put up in an abbey about 680.

The first typewriter ever made appeared in 1714, the work of Henry Mills.

The first bread was made by the Greeks; the first windmills by the Saracens.

The first playbill was issued from Drury Lane theater, London, on April 8, 1663.

It is asserted that the drum was the first musical instrument used by human beings.

Trousers, in their present shape, were introduced into the British army in 1813 and tolerated as a legitimate portion of evening dress in 1816.

According to historians, the first striking clock was imported into Europe by the Persians about 800 A. D. It was brought as a present to Charlemagne from Abdella, king of Persia, by two monks of Jerusalem.

Holmes, Bismarck, Mazzini.

The three greatest conversationalists with whom it has been my good fortune to come into touch were Mazzini, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes and Bismarck.

Of these Dr. Holmes was the most spirited in the "bel esprit" sense, Bismarck the most imposing and at the same time the most entertaining in point of wit, sarcasm, anecdote and narratives of historical interest, brought out with rushing vivacity and with lightninglike illumination of conditions, facts and men, but in Mazzini's words there breathed such a warmth and depth of conviction, such enthusiasm of faith in the sacredness of the principles professed and of the aims pursued by him, that it was difficult to resist such a power of fascination.—From "Reminiscences of a Long Life," by Carl Schurz, in McClure's.

Cure For Insomnia.

A widely known clubman whose family is known to take earnest exception to his late hours recently encountered his physician on the street.

"How are you feeling these days?" asked the medico.

"Very well, indeed, thank you," replied the clubman, "but I'm a bit worried about my wife, doctor. She suffers dreadfully from insomnia. I have been on the point for some time of consulting you about her case. What would you suggest?"

Business.

Business is not only a great civilizer of nations and of peoples, but also the greatest educator and developer of character in the world, for it is a perpetual school, a great life university where we do not go to recite and hear lectures for three or four hours a day for a few years, but where we are constantly studying and practicing almost from the cradle to the grave.—Success.

Reading a Book.

Many readers judge of the power of a book by the shock it gives their feelings, as some savage tribes determine the power of muskets by their recoil, that being considered best which fairly prostrates the purchaser.—Longfellow.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 28.—The cotton market was less active and ruled irregular with trading largely of a preholiday character. The market closed steady at a net advance of 4 to 6 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points in response to steady cables, but the market almost immediately eased off under realizing and during the middle of the morning sold at 10.30 for January and 10.49 for March, or about 7 to 8 points net lower. Offerings were aggressive at this level and the market rallied during the later trading on covering of shorts and some fresh buying for long accounts based on bullish spot news and the expectation of a higher market before the government's estimate of the crop is issued on December 10. The recovery carried prices about 5 to 6 points net higher and subsequent fluctuations were narrow and irregular. Sales for the day were estimated at 275,000 bales. A wire was received by the exchange from Washington saying that if possible the Census report would be issued before 12 o'clock on December 8 instead of on the tenth as previously expected and stated that this would be so that the Department of Agriculture wished to use the information in making its estimates of the crop on December.

Receipts at the ports to were 54,935 bales, against 68,066 last week and 48,244 last year. For the week 400,000 bales against 413,049 last week and 325,855 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 13,112 bales against 12,286 last year, and at Houston 17,860 bales against 14,408 last year.

IT'S IN THE DRAFT.

The secret of the fuel-saving qualities of this Buck's hot blast heater lies in the draft construction. It is so made as to allow large quantities of heated air to pass over the upper surface of the burning coal, thus supplying oxygen to the rising gasses, which are then converted into heating power.

Simple, isn't it? And yet it's new principle in stove building—not to be found elsewhere.

This stove will reduce your coal bill nearly one-third.

Let us tell your of its many advantages.

NEGRO SOLDIERS WERE CRIMINALS

Disinterested Investigation of Riot at Brownsville August 13th Reveals Truth.

WERE MIDNIGHT ASSASSINS

Killed and Maimed People and Fired Recklessly Into Hotels and Residences—Causelessly Insolent Toward White Men and Women.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 28.—Because of the apparent misunderstanding in portions of the country of facts which called forth the order discharging three companies of negro soldiers recently stationed here, and in view of the resultant criticism of the President's course in the matter, the citizen's committee of Brownsville recently requested Gen. A. B. Nettleton of Chicago, former assistant Secretary of the Treasury now here on business to make in his own way a thorough and disinterested investigation of the Brownsville riot of August 13, and report his conclusions. Gen. Nettleton has embodied his findings in a letter to the Secretary of War. He says in part:

"As a citizen of Illinois, as an anti-slavery advocate when that phase had a meaning and as a veteran who served in the Union army throughout the Civil War, I shall at least not be suspected of prejudice against men of color.

"Without rehearsing details I wish to assure you that this absolutely unprejudiced investigation, made after local excitement had subsided, confirms in every particular the conclusion reached by the two army officers sent here by the War Department, on the strength of which the President took action, as well as the clear and temperate statement published immediately after the tragedy by Chairman Kelly of the Brownsville citizens' committee."

After summarizing facts hertofore published as to the killing of one citizen, the maiming of a chief of police, the firing of volleys into and through hotels, saloons and private residences and of terrorizing of the entire town, Gen. Nettleton's letter continues:

"It is well attested by evidence that the colored troops were treated here with the same consideration with with which colored soldiers of like bearing are treaed in most garrison towns of the Northern States. That on the other hand the street conduct of some of them was often aggressively and causelessly insolent toward white men and women; that there was no provocation for the murderous raid by the soldiers, unless it can be called a provocation that the drinkers among them were provided with separate bars in certain saloons and but on two occasions individual insolence was resented by individual citizens, both of which happened to have been Republican Federal officials. There was no "riot" and no "street rows" as many newspapers persist in calling the occurrences. It was simply a most cowardly conspiracy to terrify, wound and kill unoffending men, women and children at the hour of midnight when defense or resistance was impracticable and was not even attempted. Evidently not an opposing shot was fired."

Gen. Nettleton's letter sharply raises the question as to what the white officers of the garrison were doing on the night of the raid and closes thus:

"In view of the facts as I find them here, the persistent attack on the part of some to make martyrs of any portion of the dicharged would be appalling if it were not grotesque. The conspiracy of silence on the part of all members of the battallion prevents the government from punishing the previous conspiracy of violence and murder and the separation of all alike from the service which they have disgraced becomes inevitable. I believe no course other than the one which the President has pursued was or is open to him, unless all semblance of decent discipline in our army is to be ended and unless every American community North and South alike is to be given cause to dread the proximity of a garrison as it would that of an encampment of armed and uniformed assailants."

Called to Account.

Washington, Nov., 28.—The War Department has called on Major Penroe, of the 25th Infantry, at Fort Reno, for an explanation of the statement alleged to have been made by him in a newspaper interview to the effect that the dismissed battalion of that regiment was the best battalion in the United States army.

SIX PERISHED MANY INJURED

Awful Result of Fire in Three Story Building in St. Louis.

INMATES PANIC STRICKEN

Building Was Occupied by 500 Men and They Fought at Windows to Escape—Some Jumped For Life.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28.—The Lighthouse Hotel, a three-story structure on the northwest corner of Ninth and Market streets, utilized as a Salvation Army barracks, was damaged by fire early to-day when probably 500 homeless men were lodged within it.

Six persons lost their lives and probably 35 others were injured, some not being expected to live. Four were burned to death and two did from injuries received in jumping from upper windows. Two of the dead men have been identified as follows:

Oscar F. Davis, Quincy, Ill., died in hospital; George D. Rose, died in hospital.

The fire started on the third floor and swept through the old building rapidly. Men fought at the windows to secure the life lines and slide to the street but so great was the frenzy with which the ropes were siezed and held that they were of little avail and those who could not escape by the stairway leaped from the windows. A large number of those who jumped were caught in nets, but many jumped before the nets were stretched and wer injured. There was but one stairway and the panic-stricken men urged down this stairway to the street only to find that the door was locked. A jam resulted and probably a great loss of life would have occurred had not the firemen promptly burst the door open.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

WOMAN GOT CHECK FOR $1,000,000

John D. Rockefeller Held Up Under Threat of Being Killed.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 28.—Charged with threatening to kill John D. Rockefeller, unless he paid her a million dollars, Mrs. Rose Delina Beauvois Handfield, 40 years of age, was arrested to-day in front of the offices of the Guardian Trust Company, in lower Broadway. Mrs. Handfield, said that her husband had been in the oil business but that he had been ruined by the Standard Oil Company. Mrs. Handfield is charged with having forced her way into the office of Mr. Rockefeller's secretary last Friday and declared she wanted a million dollars and that if she did not get it forthwith she would kill Mr. Rockefeller and burn down the building.

Some one in the Standard Oil office made out a check for $1,000,000 drawn on Mrs. Handfield's order and payable at the Guardian Trust Company. She accepted it, but Alfred M. Barrett, cashier of the trust company, was notified not to cash the check. When Mrs. Handfield presented it he told her that the trust company did not have that amount of money handy, but to come back Wednesday. When Mrs. Handfield appeared to-day she was taken to the district attorney's office and questioned.

Herman Handfield, foreman of a trunk factory, the woman's husband, said that his wife had been acting in a peculiar manner for some time. He delared that he had not been ruined by the Standard Oil Company nor had ever had any dealings with that company.

Mrs. Handfield was sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation as to her mental condition.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

O'Brien and Burns For Heavyweight Championship.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—When O'Brien and Burns entered the ring to-night for their fight for the heavyweight championship a delay of 15 minutes ensued while the men disputed over a belt worn by Burns. Then Burns objected to O'Brien's bandaged elbow. At 10:15 Burns agreed to take off the objectionable belt. It was an inflated flannel affair and covered his abdomen. The men took their places and the fight began, resulting in a draw at the end of the twentieth round.

UGLY CHARGES IN AN AFFIDAVIT

Disclosures By Special Agent of Government in Coal Lands Fraud Case.

TWO SENATORS INVOLVED

Attempt Was Made to Keep Him From Doing His Duty—Also Makes Charges Against Attache of Interior Department.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Salt Lake, City, Nov. 28—When Commissioner Clark resumed his investigation of the coal lands fraud today, Attorney Allison made the request that H. G. Williams, general manager of the Utah Fuel Company, a Gould corporation, be summoned as a witness. J. T. Marchand, who is conducting the government's case, flatly refused to examine Mr. Williams, stating that he did not propose to render Mr. Williams immune to further action.

Testimony was given by Michael A. Myendorff, a special agent of the government who began an investigation of the coal lands frauds in Utah and who, before he had completed his investigation, was transferred. Mr. Myendorff presented an affidavit in which he told of efforts made by influential men to induce him to cease his investigations on the coal land frauds. He named Senators Warren and Clark, of Wyoming, Commissioner Richards, of the General Land Office, and Geo. F. Pollock, chief of Department B., Interior Department, Washington.

Mr. Myendorff alleged that in Denver, Senator Warren told him he ought not to go after the Union Pacific and incur the enmity of that company. He charged that the land department at Washington had suppressed evidence procured by him.

The witness further alleged that George F. Pollock, chief of Department B., Interior Department, instructed him to destroy four affidavits which he had procured against the Union Pacific Coal Company.

Myendorff's affidavit alleges in his references to Senators Warren and Clark that on one occasion Senator Warren produced confidential letters which Myendorff had written to the land commissioner in Washington and read extracts from them. Myendorff alleged that it was represented to him that to stir up the Wyoming coal lands case at that time would prevent the re-election of Senator Clark.

Myendorff alleges that he was removed from Denver in 1905 as a result of his activities and pressure was brought to have the case of Wyoming lands turned over to Inspector O'Brien of Denver, whom the affiant described as a confidant of Macey, chief clerk of the Department at Washington,, and also a personal friend of Senator Warren. Counsel for the Union Pacific moved that all the allegations contained in the affidavits be stricken out, but the motion was overruled, and the affidavits will be included in the report to Congress.

ROBBERY WAS PUT UP JOB.

Assistant Express Agent in Collusion in Theft of $6,000.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 28.—C. E. Adams, agent at Kayford, near here, has been arrested, charged with the robbery of the exprsss office at that place last Saturday morning when over $6,000 was stolen. Assistant Agent Rixbar was also arrested as an accomplice. Seven hundred dollars, supposed to be part of the money lost was found in Adams', house. Adams had a slight wound in the leg when found gagged near the railroad tracks, which he claims had been inflicted by the robbers. When the officers went to examine his trousers to find how near the weapon was held when fired they learned that his wife had burned them.

SOUTHERN COTTON TRUST.

British Parliament Queried as to Steps To Checkmate It.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

London, Nov. 27.—In the House of Commons to-day replying to a question as to what steps the government intended t take in order to checkmate the "trust scheme under the name of the Southern Cotton Company" the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. Lloyd-George, said he had seen that a scheme was being organized in the United States tor egulate the price of cotton by means of storage and gradual sale. The development of course would be carefully watched but the Board of Trade did not understand that the Lancashire cotton trade at present was greatly alarmed.

ROCKEFELLER EDUCATION FUND.

Dr. Edwin A. Alderman Elected Member of Board.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 28.—Announcement was made to-day that at a meeting on Thursday on the general education board which has charge of the John D. Rockefeller foundation for higher education, the following appropriations were made:

Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis. $50,000; Drury College, Springfield, Mo., $50,000; Richmond College, Richmond, Va., $150,000; Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., $5,000; Iowa College, Grinnell Ia., $100,000.

This makes a total of $667,600 contributed from the income of the Rockefeller foundation since the gift was received in October 1905. These gifts are made conditionally, and when the conditional amounts are raised the total contribution for the endowment of the colleges will be $2,670,000.

President Harry P. Judson, of the University of Chicago, was elected a member of the general education board, succeeding the late Dr. Harper, and President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, and Hollis B. Frissell of Hampton Institute were elected members of the board.

Subseqently the members of the general board of Rockefeller foundation met the members of the executive committee of the Carnegie foundation fund for the advancement of teaching and an informal understanding was arrived at that in all matters affecting the development of higher education the two boards will endeavor to work in harmony.

WANTED $100,000 HUSH MONEY.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 28.—Charges that Louis F. Payne, when State Superintendent of Insurance, demanded $100,000 from the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company under threat of showing that the company was insolvent and that President Frederick A. Burnham had said that he paid Mr. Payne $40,000, were made by Assistant District Attorney Nott to-day in the trial of George H Burnham, Jr.

Mr. Burnham is indicted, together with Frederick A. Burnham, Jr., former counsel for the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company and George D. Eldridge, vice presidene of the company, for misappropriation of the funds of the company.

After the jury had been sent out of the room Mr. Nott said that President Frederick asked J. Douglas Wells, who was then vice president of the Mutual Reserve to put the sum of $5,075 in his expense account because President Burnham was in financial straits. As a reason for his need of money Mr. Nott said President Burnham declared to Mr. Wells that Superintendent Payne had demanded that $100,000 but had been induced to accept $40,000.

This amount, according to Mr. Nott, Mr. Burnham said he paid from his own funds.

President Burnham told Mr. Wells, Mr. Nott said, that he paid the $40,000 so that the company could write its own report as to its condition. President Burnham also was quoted as saying that he had borrows $6,000.

The matter of this alleged payment of $40,000 to Louis F. Payne, was brought up during the insurance investigation last year when Mr. Payne was a witness before the investigating committee. Mr. Payne declared that the report was absolutely false in every particular.
